Problems of understanding and communication between various age groups are among the topics explored in "What You Are is Where You Were When," an entertaining video-taped lecture to be repeated, for anyone who missed previous showings, on Friday, 30 March, from 1400 to 1600 hours in Room 1E-74.

8. RIP Ripples

Mr. Gambino reported on the status of the Reinvestigation Program and related resource problems. The Reinvestiga-tion Program has repeatedly demonstrated its worth in enhancing the security of the Agency. The efforts of the Office to increase the number of RIPs conducted to put the program on a five-year cycle are being monitored and supported by the DDCI (as a DDCI level "goal") and by other high-ranking Agency officials. However, an enhanced RIP program and other new initiatives such as the Community Security Group and the Security Education Group cannot be pursued within the framework of current budget constraints without painful reductions in other meaningful areas. Many components within the Office have suffered redistributions of personnel and losses of slots. Mr. Gambino advised that every effort is being made to obtain "more" (fewer reductions) people and funds but that we must, nevertheless, face the possibility of additional reallocations of resources and or curtailments of services. (C)

9. Personal Note

The entire Office has been deeply saddened by the news that [REDACTED] on maternity leave from Industrial and Certification Branch/CD, died on 22 March, two days after she gave birth to a baby girl. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made. (U)
